

THE ELEMENTS OF COMBAT

“Every action is seen to fall into one of three main categories: guarding, hitting, or moving. Here, then, are the elements of combat, whether in war or pugilism.”

B.H. Liddell Hart

VIOLENT ACTIVITIES

- Does the player do the violence himself?
- Does he use realistic weapons?
- How frequently does the player perform the violent act?
- Does the game reward the player for performing violent acts?
- Does the game show in any way that violence is “not appropriate?”
- How graphic is the violence?
- Is the violence against “bad guys”?

DODGING THE BULLET

- Let the player know it's started
- Outnumber the player
- The player should still move faster than everyone else.
- Give opportunities for precision shooting
- Make the soundtrack match the action
- You can never have too many effects
- Make bullet time a “sometimes” mechanic or save it for special occasions
- Save it for “super dramatic” moments
